

Local Dog Rescue Receives Abandoned Rare Breed

By Sarah Brown
Of The New Era

Bailey Porter had just certified her new nonprofit, Knotty Creek Animal Rescue, out of Sweet Home in January, but she wasn't expecting to have nine new dogs under her care so soon.

Yet, that's just what happened after someone reported a dog and her eight pups found in the middle of a forest near the very rural unincorporated community of Willard, Wash.

Unable to catch the dogs, the person who spotted them took a photo and posted it to Facebook. Two dog rescue volunteers in Gresham saw the post and drove all night to Washington to search for the canines. According to Porter, it took the pair three or four hours to catch them all, after which time they communicated with I Paw'd It Forward, a nonprofit organization in Vancouver, Wash., about what to do with the dogs. Since Paw'd Forward was already taking in a dog that had been shot, it was determined Knotty Creek should handle the pack.

So, early on Saturday, March 30, Porter received the rescued pack and has since been busy managing the kennel and fielding multiple interviews as the news spread through media outlets in Oregon and Washington.

Motorcyclist Gives Chase Through Linn County

By Sarah Brown
Of The New Era

Lebanon, Linn County and Oregon State police assisted in a motorcycle chase that began in Lebanon and ended in Upper Calapooia on the evening of April 2.

According to an incident report through Lebanon Police Department, police initiated an attempted traffic stop at 9:01 p.m. on South Main Street and clocked the driver at 70 mph. As he approached Crowfoot Road, his speed was clocked at 95 mph.

The driver, later identified as Kevin Austin Corrington, 25 – who has addresses listed in both Lebanon and Sweet Home – turned onto Crowfoot and headed toward South Main. He turned north on South Main and then West on Jadon Drive before proceeding back to South Main toward Rock Hill Drive.

SHFAD Battle Blaze, Save Nearby Home

Of The New Era

The Sweet Home Fire and Ambulance District (SHFAD) was dispatched to a structure fire located at the 44000 block of Wiley Creek Road on Tuesday, April 2, at 6:26 p.m.

"We arrived to find smoke coming out of the double-wide mobile home," said Randy Whitfield, the on-scene commander who arrived at 6:33 p.m. "It was coming out from all corners. Due to the location and the wind, it grew quite rapidly."

SHFAD worked to put the fire out, but 20-25 feet away was a secondary mobile home that shared a common roof with the structure fire.

"We were trying to save the camp trailer as much as we could. It was a challenge, but we were able to do that," Whitfield said.

Initially, SHFAD had six people on scene, but with other determining factors, this number grew substantially to about 20 by the end of the event. Lebanon Fire District responded with two engines and a medic unit, and Brownsville Fire responded with an engine.

The fire is presumed to have started from an electrical malfunction near the resident's dryer.

OBITUARIES

Daniel Joseph Barry
April 23, 1940 - March 28, 2024

Daniel Joseph Barry, 83, of Sweet Home went to be with the Lord Thursday, March 28, 2024. Danny was born April 23, 1940 in a small sandhill town in western Nebraska called Alliance to Bernice J. (Stevens) and John W. Barry.

Danny was the third of seven children in a close, loving family. Being members of the Holy Rosary Catholic Church the children all attended St. Agnes Academy from kindergarten through 12th grade.

Young Danny loved his family and his dog Sandy who he taught to chase cats, fight with dogs and enjoy ice cream cones on hot summer days.

Danny always enjoyed being outside, taking long walks, hunting, swimming, playing in the leaves of fall, doing handstands, walking on his hands, wiggling his ears, and pole vaulting in the back yard. In school he loved sports, especially football and basketball. Back then they had leather football helmets without face guards, and Danny ended one season with a broken nose and missing two front teeth. All in all Danny was always kind and humble, never demanding or hostile.

Danny loved his church and after high school followed his desire to serve God by joining the Jesuit order to become a "Brother."

Danny lived a number of years in Sioux Falls, South Dakota with his older brother Pat, and will be buried there next to him.

He moved to Oregon over 20 years ago to be near family and has been a resident of Wiley Creek in Sweet Home, Oregon for the last 14 years.

Danny enjoyed the many family reunions in Nebraska and Oregon. He was consistently a winner of many card games, board games and billiards and loved a good camp fire.

Danny is survived by sister Peggy Schopp and her husband Tom, sister Barbara Swan, brother Timothy Barry and his wife Beth, outlaw brother-in-law Noel Corbell and many nieces and nephews. Preceded in death by his parents John and Bernice Barry, nephew Christifer Corbell, brother Pat Barry, sisters Geraldine Corbell and Kay Yankovich. Also two of his outlaw brothers-in-law Ed Yankovich and Tony Swan.

Danny will be sorely missed by his family, his church, and his family from Wiley Creek.

Viewing will be 10:00-10:30 am, Recitation of the Rosary will take place at 10:30 am and Funeral Mass will follow at 11:00 am, all on Saturday April 6th at St. Helen Catholic Church. Interment will be at St. Michael Cemetery in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. In lieu of flowers donations can be made to ALS Northwest (alsoregon.org) to support those dealing with Lou Gehrig's Disease. Sweet Home Funeral Chapel is handling arrangements. www.sweethomefuneral.com.

Gary Ray Hayes
March 29, 1951 - April 4, 2024

Gary Ray Hayes, 73, of Sweet Home passed away Thursday, April 4, 2024. He was born March 29, 1951 to Raymond and Vivian (Parker) Hayes in Oroville, California.

He moved to Oregon in 1996. Lived in New York for a year and back to Albany in 2006 then moved to Sweet Home in 2019. Gary worked as a general contractor for motels and was a cook for a family restaurant. He enjoyed camping, riding motor bikes and liked to drink.

He is survived by his wife of 51 years, Zelfern Hayes of Sweet Home, two children: Raymond G. Hayes of Sweet Home and Shelly M. Hayes of Albany, nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Preceded in death by grandson William R. Johnson. Sweet Home Funeral Chapel is handling arrangements. www.sweethomefuneral.com.

Morris "Bird" Leroy Sparrow
December 11, 1937 - April 3, 2024

Born to John Wilbur Sparrow and Ada Hannah Bam-brough in the old Simpson Hotel in Smithville, Georgia. He was always proud of his Southern roots and food - especially ham, pecans and pimento cheese.

In 1947 he started third grade in Sweet Home, Oregon and went on to graduate from Sweet Home Union High School in 1956 where he got his nickname and made many lifelong friends. He was a proud member of the Sweet Home Elks and a volunteer fireman and always considered Sweet Home his hometown.

In 1956 he married Charlene Luttrell with whom he had three children: Audrey, and twins Ben and Ellen.

He worked in the propane business for a time and in 1964 began his 35-year career with Northwest Natural Gas Company as a serviceman and customer service supervisor. His genial personality and soft-spoken ways served him well in those capacities. He retired in 1999.

In 1979 he married Alice Jane Brown and they moved to Corvallis in August 1981. They traveled to Germany to see family and to England, Scotland, Las Vegas, and Hawaii with her friends from high school.

He very much enjoyed his camping trips over the years with his buddy Curt Wolfenbarger, and more recently his "Man Camp" trips with friends were the highlight of every year. Laughter was the order of the day and many very funny stories came out of those Man Camp trips.

Morris died at home, age 86, after a long bout with heart issues and COPD and will be missed by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife of 44 years, Alice, daughter Audrey Warren of Maryland, son Ben of Sisters, OR, daughter Ellen of Tigard, OR, grandson Matthew David Warren, and half-sister Mimi Suzanne Poitras (Paul Biwan) of Corvallis, OR.

He was preceded in death by his parents, his beloved step-father William J. Poitras, and his sister Rosa Lee Sparrow who died in 1958.

At his request no services will be held. Cremation by McHenry Funeral Home in Corvallis.

Donations may be made to the charity of your choice.

PUBLIC SAFETY

Information for the Public Safety report in The New Era is sourced from local law enforcement and fire agencies. Incident details, which may not always be available from agencies in time for publication in our weekly paper edition, could be updated online as information becomes available. Addresses provided generally denote the location of the incident or arrest, occasionally indicating the origin of the call. It is crucial to emphasize that our reporting of an individual's arrest or citation for a crime does not imply guilt. Determination of guilt can only be established through legal proceedings in court.

Buzz Martin, “The Singing Logger” from eastern Linn County, is shown in 1974 with an updated version of the chain saw he sings about on his hit record, “My Old McCulloch.” Martin’s views of the timber industry have led to his popularity as lecturer as well as entertainer.

April 11, 1974

David Allen Chetwood, 8, drowned after falling into the Lester Shingle mill pond. David and his brother, Danny, were apparently searching for frogs when the accident occurred. In an attempt to save his brother's life, Danny jumped in. Bystanders Jim Pritchett and Greg Osburn also then dove in to rescue the two boys, saving Danny. It took sheriff volunteer divers 45 minutes to recover David's body due to the murky, seven- or eight-foot deep water.

After 13 years of big timber logging in eastern Linn County, Buzz Martin traded his chainsaw for a guitar and went on to a career in country music that is bringing him national attention and acclaim. Known as "The Singing Logger," Martin uses hard facts about forests and logging in his evangelistic support of wood production. Martin met Johnny Cash and sang for him the song, "Butterin' Up Biscuit," one of Martin's most popular songs.

Norm Davis resigned as the high school's head football coach, but will remain as a teacher and retain his head wrestling coach duties. Davis said in his resignation letter that he'd like to have more time with his family, but also put more energy into the wrestling program.

April 14, 1999

White's Electronics is adding 9,000 square feet of work space, the first major addition to the hometown business in more than 20 years. With a worldwide market, White's finds itself in need of more space, particularly for metal fabrication.

Junction City police officials were found not negligent nor a contributing factor to the hanging death of Norman Stephens, a 25-year-old Sweet Home man who was serving a four-day sentence in the Junction City Jail for passing bad checks. Three days into his sentence, Stephens was found hanging from a bed sheet in his cell. Police performed CPR and he was transferred to the hospital where he died a week later.

Cory Martin, 5, a pre-kindergarten child at Little Promises, was one of five children across the nation to win a drawing contest by Christian singer Mary Rice Hopkins. Teacher Vanessa Swindall's class all submitted artwork into the contest. Cory's picture depicted Moses using his staff to change water into blood when he demanded the Egyptian pharaoh let his people go.

LOCAL EVENTS

SHEM Seeks More Helping Hands for Maintenance, Board

By Sarah Brown
Of The New Era

Volunteers who operate Sweet Home Emergency Ministries (SHEM) have been providing food and resource services since 1980, but as they look to the future they would like to find more hands to keep operations running smoothly.

Pantry Manager Cindy Rice and Board Chair Julie Dedman said they would like to see the nonprofit's base strengthened by a younger generation working volunteer hours, business professionals serving on the board and handymen available for regular maintenance.

As warm weather approaches, the nonprofit has a list of maintenance needs that need to be completed. They include: cleaning gutters, cleaning refrigerator and freezer coils, cart repairs, toilet replacement and related repairs, faucet repairs, painting, spraying weeds, raking leaves, cleaning windows, patching the cement floor, and clearing leaves and/or snow from the sidewalk.

"This is ongoing maintenance and repairs," Rice said.

Ideally an experienced and able handyman or two could offer their skills on a somewhat regular basis for basic upkeep. Some of the work requires the ability to work on top of the roof, climb ladders or fix plumbing.

Rice, who's been with SHEM since its inception, said she's patched the floor multiple times over the years because pallets and carts regularly run through the building, but she can't complete all the maintenance needs.

"Some of this stuff was actually date night for my husband and I, like returning the benches to the front," she joked as she looked through a list of maintenance needs.

Prior to COVID, the food and clothing pantry saw a fair number of high school students come through as volunteers, but the pandemic seems to have put a halt to that routine, Rice said.

Errolyn Bauer sorts through cans of food that will be placed on shelves by product type.

COVID changed operations "tremendously," Dedman said, speaking mostly to the fact that SHEM had to discontinue its shopping-style service. They still serve clients outside its building because some volunteers are vulnerable to airborne disease.

Also, the number of people served dropped by a few thousand during the pandemic. In 2010, SHEM served 11,726 people. In 2013 the number of people served peaked at 13,771 before it began to decline until it hit 5,256 in 2021. Most recent data indicates that services are returning to pre-COVID numbers, with 10,481 served in 2023.

As someone who's been with SHEM for more than 40 years, in addition to Dedman who's been there 12 years, Rice wondered if their knowledge and experience will have a chance to be passed down to younger volunteers before they retire.

Rice said she hopes more business professionals will step up to serve on the board and help "strategically plan for the future" with their new energy and fresh ideas.

Anyone interested in volunteering time, performing maintenance work or serving on the board may call 541.367.6504 or email shem-foodbank@gmail.com.

Linn County Board of Commissioners receive annual COG report

By Alex Paul
For The New Era

The Meals on Wheels program sponsored by the Oregon Cascades West Council of Governments (OCWCOG) provided more than 158,000 meals (146,559 home delivered and 11,518 in-person dining) to Linn County residents in 2023, Executive Director Ryan Vogt noted in the organization's hot-off-the press annual report delivered to the Linn County Board of Commissioners on April 2.

Meals are served at the Albany, Lebanon and Sweet Home community centers, the Mill City First Presbyterian Church and the Brownsville Christian Church. OCWCOG also provided 3,861 shelf-stable food boxes and held 11 Medicare 101 information seminars.

Some 16 foster grandparents contributed 12,519 volunteer hours to youth in schools, libraries and after-school programs. There were 10 senior companion volunteers who provided almost 4,000 volunteer hours helping seniors with transportation to run errands, shop for groceries etc. The Cascades West Ride Line provided 80,394 trips totaling 1,424,907 miles for non-emergent medical transportation. Working with 29 adult foster homes, OCWCOG provided up to 145 residents with safe housing and assisted 2,191 Linn County residents through the Aging and Disability Resource Connection.

OCWCOG received $1 million in Brownfields Grant Funding to clean up three contaminated properties, which are located in Linn County. The Cascades West Business Lending program provided area businesses with $1.2 million in loans. Vogt said four loans were made in 2023 and it appears there will be even more applicants in 2024.

Vogt introduced new economic development director Jaclyn Disney, who comes to the mid-valley with many years of management and economic development experience from the Redding, Calif., area. She has a Master of Public Administration degree from California State University, Chico.

In other business, the commissioners:

- Approved a $13.1 million supplemental budget request by Treasurer Michelle Hawkins. The funds will be moved from Contingency into Materials and Services. A portion of the funding, more than $10 million, was already used to purchase the Wheelhouse Building and another $2.6 million is being set aside to be used to purchase a building behind Samaritan Albany General Hospital. The county is in the due diligence phase of that potential purchase. The funds come from the federal government and were set aside for these purposes during last year's budget hearings process in anticipation of such purchases.

- Were informed by Veterans Services Director Dee Baley-Hyder that her staff helped local veterans recover more than $493,000 in benefits owed them from Jan. 1 to March 20 and more than $1.5 million from July 1, 2023 until March 20, 2024. She also told the board about the April 25 Honor Flight taking veterans to Washington, D.C. that will start with a program on the north steps of the courthouse on April 25.

- Approved accepting a $77,780 grant from the Oregon Department of Energy to be used to purchase electric-powered vehicles for the General Services Department.

- Appointed Josh Barbour and reappointed Darrin Lane and JoAnn McQueary to the Developmental Disabilities Advisory Board.

- Approved a temporary part-time employment contract with Communications Dispatcher Brittany Kleivan, who resigned from a full-time position effective March 31. With her contract, the Sheriff's Office will still have five open dispatch positions.

- Agreed to sponsor the First-Time Youth Wage program for the 17th year. Linn County allocates money from the Oregon Video Lottery program earmarked for economic development to subsidize wages paid by local employers who hire young employees. Traditionally the county has provided $2 per hour and total outlay according to Treasurer Michell Hawkins is between $30,000 and $40,000 annually. The commissioners agreed to up the subsidy to $3 this year. Commissioner Sherrie Sprenger said she would like to see some form of measurable objectives and outcomes and to ask employers if the subsidy actually makes a difference in whether they would hire young people.

Kids Learn Japanese Print Art at Library

By Sarah Brown
Of The New Era

The Sweet Home Public Library invited children to try their hand at gyotaku, a traditional form of Japanese print-making, on April 4.

Between interruptions from restless, curious and talkative little ones, Program Coordinator Kelsie Szeszulski, of Mid-Valley STEM-CTE Hub, told her guests at the library what gyotaku is and why it was important in Japanese culture.

Translated as “fish printing,” gyotaku was used by fishermen to visually record the size and species of fish they caught. It was also used in competitions to prove who caught the biggest fish, and it later became an artform. Fishermen would pin down their catch, paint it with nontoxic cuttlefish or squid ink, then press paper or fabric to the specimen to capture its impression.

Mid-Valley STEM-CTE Hub brought their Mobile Makerspace program to the library to provide the children with the opportunity to try gyotaku for themselves. Using silicone molds of fish that would be found in the Pacific Northwest, the children applied a light layer of ink to a roller, then rolled it onto their rubbery specimen.

Next, they placed thin rice paper on top of the fish and gently pressed down until the print was sufficiently marked onto the paper. Once completed with their own artwork, each of the kids contributed a print onto a shared piece of paper that will become part of a large collaborative art piece made from other contributions in the area.

Mid-Valley STEM-CTE Hub is an organization that operates out of the Linn-Benton

Community College campus in Albany. STEM (science, technology, engineering, math) and CTE (career and technical education) are areas of focus that encourage passion and learning skills in areas that can offer high-demand careers for the future.

Part of Hub’s programming includes their Mobile Makerspace, which allows them to bring these kinds of experiences throughout Linn and Benton counties.

“We got some grant funding from the state to come into rural schools and get some hands-on STEM activities,” Marketing Specialist Kacey Montgomery explained.

Mobile Makerspace visits libraries, out-of-school organizations (such as Boys & Girls Club) and farmer’s markets to provide the events free of charge. They will return to the Sweet Home library next month with a “solar critter” project.

“We’re going to be using solar panels and making circuits and having a little vibrating motor with bugs attached,” Szeszulski said.

Once completed, kids will learn what affects solar light and how it can be used as a green energy source. To find out when the project will take place, call 541.367.5007, email shpl@sweethomeor.gov or follow the library on Facebook at Facebook.com/SweetHomePublicLibrary.

“They come out and do awesome projects for us,” Programming Librarian Kira Mikutaitis said. “They do a great job every time they come. We have kids every time who are excited and interested. It’s really a great opportunity to get more stuff here at the library.”

“We think it was probably over a week that they were out there because they were skin and bones, and so was mom, and they started fighting over food and it was a complete mess,” Porter said. “Now they don’t fight over food.”

She estimates the puppies are nine to 13 weeks old. Porter expected the dogs to be a Labrador-Pyrenees mix, but it became evident pretty quickly that that was not the case. The all-white dogs are large and look much like a Central Asian shepherd or akbash breed, both of which are not common in the United States.

A scanner was used to search for a microchip, but none was located. Howdy Ranch in Roseburg offered to do DNA testing, and results are expected within a month or so. Faithful Friends Animal Clinic in Lebanon offered to test the dogs for parasites. Porter said two puppies in particular were not doing well, but a special diet has improved their demeanor.

The dam has swelling on her front leg, which seems to be getting better, Porter said. Faithful Friends will take x-rays to help determine what the cause for swelling is. One of the puppies, who displayed a more feral and aggressive nature, was moved to a different foster home that can better handle the behavior.

The dogs are expected to be available for adoption in a week or two, after testing has been completed and any necessary treatments begun.

Porter originally planned to operate her rescue to help re-home public dogs, but said she is reconsidering that idea.

“I don’t want to support irresponsible pet ownership,” she said.

Instead, she would like to eventually start doing kill shelter runs. Porter explained that there are shelters in Southern California and Texas that euthanize surrendered dogs after three to seven days. These types of shelters are often referred to as kill shelters.

“No soul born deserves to be put down,” Porter said. “We want to focus on saving dogs in high risk situations like that.”

But for now, aside from the white pack taking up her time, Knotty Creek’s main program is what she calls “Stop K9 Starvation,” a dog food resource through her Grizzly Bag Program.

“Grizzly was one of our first rescues that we got through a foster,” Porter explained. “He was a homeless man’s dog and you could count every bone in his body. It took 24 days of consistent feeding (until) he was obese and we could rehome him. That really hit home with me.”

She fills large bags with dog food to distribute to dog owners in need throughout Oregon.

“We just help people, whether they’re low-income or having an emergency, but mostly homeless people’s animals.”

Anyone interested in making a contribution to help with the cost of care for the dogs and/or Grizzly bags, may donate through Porter’s website at KnottyCreekAnimalRescue.org/donate.

Jessie Cardin, a friend who owns Sun Lane Stones in Lebanon, is launching a fundraiser for Porter on Monday, April 8. Anyone who donates money, food or supplies for Knotty Creek through Sun Lane Stones or Faithful Friends will be entered into a drawing for a gift card at her store, which includes shops from different vendors. Watch for more information at Facebook.com/sunlanestones.

“She’s just starting with the rescue,” Cardin said. “This is a big opportunity for her. I want to help her as much as I can.”

MOTORCYCLE

At that point, he was clocked at 90 mph.

Corrington turned west on Rock Hill and headed south toward Brownsville. When he entered Brownsville, he turned west on Locust Avenue, then north on Oak Street, west on Hausman Avenue, and north on Linn Way (which becomes 7 Mile Lane). Corrington was clocked at this point at 85 mph. He continued traveling north of Brownsville before returning south toward the town. He turned east on Kirk Avenue and proceeded east on Northern Drive where he was clocked at 55 mph on s-curves.

The driver then took OR-228 eastbound into Crawfordsville, and was clocked at 90 mph before passing Crescent Hill Road. He turned southeast onto Upper Calapooia Drive where his speed eventually decreased to 55 mph. Pavement on the road later turned to gravel.

The report indicates Corrington, who was driving a Harley Davidson, was “at gunpoint” at 9:43 p.m., and the Linn County Sheriff’s Office took him into custody. A Ruger was seized. Corrington was charged April 3 with fleeing or attempting to elude a police officer, reckless driving, criminal driving while suspended or revoked, and unlawful possession of a firearm. Bail was set at $10,000.

In October 2019, Corrington pleaded no contest to DUII (liquor) and failure to perform the duties of a driver-property damage, with a reckless driving charge dismissed. In August 2022, he pleaded no contest to DUII (liquor), with a reckless driving charge dismissed. According to court documents, the 2022 charges were related to an OSP-issued citation that included speeding 83/55. Corrington did not, however, fulfill his sentencing requirements to complete treatment services and a warrant was issued for further court hearings.

In November 2023, he was charged again with speeding 85/55, criminal driving while suspended or revoked, and unlawful possession of a firearm. A warrant was issued for failure to appear. He was served his warrants when arrested on April 2. Bail for the November 2023 case was set at $5,000.

Driver and Dog Escape Serious Injury

By Sky Chappell
Of The New Era

Sweet Home Fire and Ambulance District (SHFAD) and Linn County Sheriff's Office responded to a single vehicle accident at the 27000 block of Rowell Hill Road, near the intersection of Rowell Hill and Moss Ln, Monday, April 1.

"The driver stated there was a dog in the road and he swerved to avoid it," Battalion Chief Shannon Pettner said.

The vehicle, a 1997 Ford pickup truck, rolled into a ditch and onto its side. The driver and his dog were able to climb out of the truck with help from a bystander.

"The driver was transported to Lebanon Hospital with non-life-threatening injuries," Pettner said. "His dog was taken to a family member by the bystander."

This accident marks the first of this month.

Jayce Miller Signs with SWOCC

By Sky Chappell
Of The New Era

Jayce Miller is the newest Husky to complete a college signing after committing to Southwestern Oregon Community College (SWOCC). Miller's signing marks the fourth signing this year for the Sweet Home wrestling program, with one more to come.

Originally when Miller joined wrestling at a young age, he never knew he would go on to compete at the collegiate level.

"When I started wrestling it was mostly because my friends got me into it, but I found that I had a natural talent for wrestling," Miller said. "It wasn't until my senior year that I decided to pursue wrestling at the collegiate level."

Miller rejoined the wrestling team freshman year; however, his freshman year was during the COVID pandemic, but this didn't stop Miller from being a three-time state championship placer with multiple tournament placings.

"My freshman year was really my first full year of wrestling, so I guess at that point no one really expected me to do what I did," Miller said.

"To come back out like that and to challenge yourself, that was a real plus for us and what he brought to our program over the last four years," head coach Steve Thorpe explained. "He's an incredible leader. [He] absolutely loves to take charge and have a voice by example."

Jayce Miller and family, during Millers' signing.

Miller was seen with ear-to-ear smiles following his signing, truly showing the excitement he was feeling.

"I really like the campus and the coaches, and it's not too far from home, so I'm expecting a pretty good experience," Miller mentioned.

He plans to wrestle while he gets a degree in forest management. His future career goals are currently undetermined.

"I think he's going to a great school and a really good fit for him at SWOCC," Thorpe said. "Before him, we have sent several wrestlers there. I like what that school has to offer. I'm really excited for him and really proud of him."

Proceeds support the museum and Moyer House events and programs. For more information, call the Linn County Historical Museum at 541.466.3390.

The Linn County Historical Museum and Moyer House are maintained and operated by the Linn County Parks & Recreation Department.

Bi-Mart Mothers Day

Bi-Mart will host an event for kids to create a personalized planter for mom from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Thursday, May 11.

Attendees will be able to choose from a selection of pots that they will paint, and a selection of plants to go with it, to give mom something special this year. Stick around for a talk about "gardening 101."

Civil War at Cheadle Park

The Northwest Civil War Council (NCWC) will host a "Living History" Civil War reenactment from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday, May 17

(school day), and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, May 18-19, at Cheadle Lake Park, 37941 Weirich Drive.

A donation of $3 per student and $5 per adult is requested, but not required, to help cover costs to put on the event. The American Legion will also host a benefit breakfast for veterans on Saturday.

The nonprofit organization works to educate the public about the American Civil War through reenactments. Members wear authentically-reproduced clothing, use black powder weapons, cook over open fires and sleep in canvas tents as they participate in battle reenactments and live the military and civilian life. The reenactments across Oregon are a small sampling of what members do to share about the history and people during the Civil War era. For more information, visit www.nwcwc.net.

Dyno Days

Linn-Benton Community College will host "Dyno Days" from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, May 17-18, at the LBCC automotive technology training center, 2000 Oak St.

The two-day event will include booths, food vendors, tours, games and industry-related opportunity information, as well as the opportunity to run your vehicle on a dynamometer (a "vehicle treadmill").

For $50, have your front- or rear-wheel drive vehicle tested three times on the dynamometer to find out its torque and horsepower output. No motorcycles or all-wheel drives; semis are okay.

Reservations are not necessary, but are encouraged. To reserve a run on the dynamometer or for more information, call 541.917.4506.

Breakfast for Habitat

Lebanon Habitat for Humanity will host a fundraising breakfast at 8 a.m. on Thursday, May 30, at Boulder Falls Inn Event Center, 605 Mullins Drive.

Did you know that Habitat builds homes for aging in place to make sure individuals can remain in their communities? Join the nonprofit for breakfast "on the house" as they share their plans to expand services in East Linn County. All donations go toward the two current home builds in Sodaville.

RSVP by May 17 at <https://bit.ly/3xojibB>. For more information, call 541.405.5213 or email info@lebanonhabitat.com.

Good Week for Huskies Track and Field

By Scott Swanson
For The New Era

Sweet Home's track and field athletes faced bigger competition Saturday, April 6, than they have in nearly a decade, taking on a wide range of 6A- to 1A-sized schools at the Sandy Invitational.

Although the weather was wet and windy, the Huskies had a good day, Coach Nathan Whitfield said.

The boys finished sixth out of 16 teams with 54 points, behind The Dalles (74.5) and Scappoose (61) from the 4A Division, while the girls were eighth in a field of 14 with 30 points, behind Scappoose, which was second with 95 points. Both The Dalles and Scappoose, which shows signs of being a major player in the state girls competition this year, were 5A schools until last year.

Included in the competition were 6A schools Sandy and Reynolds, and 5A La Salle, Milwaukie, Wilsonville and Putnam, and a variety of smaller-division schools.

"Our throws went extremely well" in particular, Whitfield said, noting that the boys had five personal bests from nine throwers and the girls had three.

And some of those were big ones. Junior Dylan Sharp, who posted a PR of 40-0 on March 21 at Stayton and then matched that Thursday, April 4, against Newport (see below), delivered a throw of 44-8 at Sandy for a giant improvement, with freshman Gavin Tyler right behind at 42-8, a 2-foot, 7-inch PR, as they placed third and fourth.

In the girls javelin, junior Peyton Markell exceeded the 100-foot mark with a 5½-foot personal best of 105-11, and junior Abygail Foss, who had improved her javelin best by 5 feet against Newport earlier in the week, added almost 9 feet to that Saturday with a PR of 94-9.

In the discus, junior Connor Pace broke the 120-foot barrier with a PR of 120-8.

Sweet Home left some of its top track performers at home with sickness or wrestling commitments - "sickness hit us kind of hard," Whitfield said. But the Huskies still put on some head-turning performances.

Both short relay teams did "great," and the girls 4x400 team did well, Whitfield said.

Freshman Nick Larson and sophomore Delainie Pratt both made the finals in the short hurdles, Larson placing fourth in 18.50, after running a PR of 18.26 in the prelims, and Pratt was seventh for the girls, running 20.28 after posting a PR of 19.92 in the prelims.

In the boys 3000, freshman Kason Koenig-Walters was ninth in 10:29.48 in his first high school race at that distance and sophomore McKenzie Miller was fourth in the 3000 (11:44.10) and fifth in the 1500 (5:25.51), posting season-bests in both events.

Also on Saturday, Sweet Home sent some of its less-experienced competitors to the Cobra Memorial Meet at Central Linn. The boys posted 12 personal bests from 19 athletes, and the girls had eight from 20 athletes.

The Huskies will be back in action Thursday, April 11, hosting Woodburn, which has moved back up to the 5A Division. Field events start at 4 p.m., with track races beginning at 4:30.

Sweet Home vs Newport

Sweet Home defeated Newport Thursday, March 4, in a dual meet at home.

The increased numbers and experience for the Huskies showed up as the boys outpointed the Cubs 86-51 and the girls outscored the visitors 72-56.

The boys had 11 individual winners and recorded 40 personal bests, while the girls had six individual winners while recording 26 PRs.

"They left some kids at home and we left some kids, but we're getting back into form," Whitfield said.

Stand-outs, he said, includ-
